

WAITING TIMES UPDATES

Thursday, October 24th, 2024

VESSELS IN QUEUE FOR TRANSIT IN THE PANAMA CANAL
LOCKS	BOOKED	NON-BOOKED
NeoPanamax	10
Panamax	34	5
Vessels in Queue for Transit	44	5

WAITING TIME FORECAST
VESSEL TYPE	NORTH BOUND	SOUTH BOUND
NeoPanamax	2-3 Days	2-3 Days
Super	2-3 Days	2-3 Days
Regulars	2-3 Days	2-3 Days

*Regulars : vessels with 27.74m in beam

**0 means no vessels awaiting transit on the queue.

Note: It is important to remember that many restrictions have changed since the canal began to face water level problems. Therefore, the waiting time reflected in our daily report is only a guide to how many ships/days are waiting to get a slot to transit with a reservation. This means there is a different waiting time than when ships wait days and are transited based on first come, first serve. There is no clear indication of whether the Panama Canal will return to transit non-booked vessels as in the past based on first come, first serve.

For more information, contact Antonio Tigert at Antonio.Tigert@waterfront-ms.com.

Disclaimer: WaterFront Maritime Services may not be held liable for the consequences of any actions or decisions taken based on the information provided herein.